

Bachelor of Arts (Media and Communications)

Course Structure - Course Code N053

For students commencing from 2003 to 2004

The Bachelor of Arts (Media and Communications) is a three year full-time or six year part-time course requiring the successful completion of 24 units of study (300 credit points). All units of study in the degree are normally worth 12.5 credit points. A full-time load consists of eight units of study per year (four per semester) and four units of study per year (two per semester) for a part-time load. Students are required to complete ten media and communications units of study, a mandatory unit of study, a major or two minors, and electives. . An optional and additional year of Industry-Based Learning (IBL) may also be available. For more detailed information visit <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/spl/ibl/> .

Mandatory unit of study:

HMA104 Statistics and Research Methods B (replaced by HMA105 Practical Statistics) Or

HMA103 Statistics and Research Methods A (for students completing a Psychology major or minor)

Media and Communications Component: The Media and Communications Component is an approved grouping of ten Media units of study. It consists of two stage 1 units of study and eight post Stage 1 units of study. At least four units of study must be taken at Stage 3.

Major: A major is an approved grouping of eight units of study in an area of study. It consists of two Stage 1 units of study (eg: HAM105) and six post-Stage 1 units of study. At least three units of study must be taken at Stage 3 (eg: HAM313). The remaining post-Stage 1 units of study may be taken at Stage 2 or 3. Students wishing to undertake a Psychology major are required to complete ten units of study (refer to the relevant area of study section). Students who wish to complete a Business major must complete an approved grouping of seven units of study with at least two at Stage 3. Students completing a Business major are NOT permitted to complete any further non-Arts or non-Social Science units of study. Note: Business majors are only available to students who commenced their degree prior to 2005.

Minor: A minor is an approved grouping of five units of study in an area of study. It normally consists of one unit of study at Stage 1 and four post-Stage 1 units of study, at least one of which is normally at Stage 3. Students wishing to undertake a Japanese or Psychology minor are required to complete six units of study (refer to relevant area of study section). Students completing a Business minor are not permitted to complete any further non-Arts or non-Social Science units of study.

Elective: An elective is a unit of study that is not taken as part of a major or minor. Students may include one of the 3 unit of study Curriculum Framework Elective Sequences as part of their elective choice. For more detailed information visit <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/hed/professionallearning/electivesplus.html> .

Optional Industry Based Learning (IBL): Students have the option of undertaking valuable work experience in a paid industry placement for a period of 6 or 12 months (most often the latter) between their second and third years. For more detailed information visit <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/spl/ibl/> .

In addition to completing the mandatory unit of study and Media and Communications component, students must choose one of the following options:

Option 1

Major
5 Electives

Option 2

It is the student's responsibility to:

- Design and plan their course using a degree planner
- Confirm their completed degree planner with Student Administration Staff
- Ensure they have met prerequisite requirements before enrolling in a unit of study
(The Coursefinder located at <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/courses/>, lists specific pre-requisites under unit of study details.)

Recommended Electives

The following stage 1 units of study are designed to complement your degree, and it is strongly recommended students undertake one of the units of study:

HAT119 Academic Communication Skills (Note: this unit of study is specifically designed for International Students)
HAM113 Professional Communication Practice
HAC213 Intercultural Communications
HMA100 Making Sense of Data (replaces HMA105 Practical Statistics for students not studying a psychology major).

Course requirements and restrictions

The following course requirements and restrictions apply:

- A maximum of ten Stage 1 units of study can be completed in the degree.
- Students must complete at least four stage 3 units of study for the Media and Communications Component
- Students must complete a minimum of six Stage 3 units of study (depending on Option chosen)
- A unit of study can only be counted once as part of a major, minor or elective.
- Students are not permitted to enrol in units of study where they have completed other units of study that are deemed to be equivalent, e.g. dual coded units of study such as HAH210/HAH310.
- Equivalent units of study cannot be used for credit at a level other than that which the student has enrolled, e.g. if a student has enrolled in a unit of study coded as a Stage 2 unit of study (HAH210), it cannot be counted as a Stage 3 unit of study.
- Students commencing in 2003 and 2004 are permitted to complete one Business major or one Business minor as part of their course structure. A maximum of seven Business units of study for a major may be completed. Students commencing in 2005 or later may complete a Business minor only.
NOTE: Students completing either a Business major or minor are NOT permitted to complete any further non-Arts or non-Social Science units of study.
- Students, other than those completing a Business major, may complete a maximum of five non-Arts or non-Social Science units of study (excluding HMA103, HMA104, HMA105, HMA278 and HMA279).
- The maximum number of units of study that may be completed for the degree course is 26.

Please note:

- Most units of study are only offered in one of the two semesters each year. (Please note that not every unit of study listed is offered each year.) Students should take unit of study availability into consideration when completing their degree planners and refer to the current Timetable located at <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/hed/timetable/>. Units of study will normally be offered in the same semester each year.
- Students studying a Marketing major or minor are not required to complete HMB110/HMB111 Quantitative Analysis (prerequisite unit of study for HBQ229 Marketing Research) as it is equivalent to HMA103 Statistics and Research Methods, HMA104 Statistics and Research Methods B or HMA105 Practical Statistics.

For a full description of units of study, please refer to the Coursefinder located at <http://www.swinburne.edu.au/courses/>.

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS COMPONENT

Media and Communications offers a broad range of units of study, which are primarily taught by people who have had extensive work-place experience in publishing, print media, radio, and electronic media. The academic staff share a belief that the student best equipped to face the vagaries of the workplace is the one who has a general, as well as a specialised, appreciation of how the media operates. Such an appreciation provides students with the ability to recognise the place the media occupy within the broader social context. Students also need to be skilled at thinking for themselves, and to be informed and flexible in their approaches to the kinds of problem solving that is crucial in the development of a professional career. The Media and Communications component comprises of ten units of study.

STUDENT ARE REQUIRED TO COMPLETE THE FOLLOWING UNITS OF STUDY :

STAGE 1

HALM104 Media Literature Film: Texts and Contexts#

HAM105 The Media in Australia#

AUSTRALIAN STUDIES

Australian Studies examines Australian society and its cultures from several different disciplinary perspectives. Its main objective is to provide a solid body of knowledge about the political, economic and social history of twentieth century Australia. From that base, it provides the opportunity to undertake specific studies within particular disciplines such as Literature, Media Studies, Philosophy and Cultural Inquiry, Politics and Sociology. It offers a broad perspective on contemporary public issues and a context for the analysis of questions in other disciplines.

* Previously HASP306 Quantitative Research Methods

Compulsory units of study in the major or minor.

CULTURAL STUDIES

Cultural Studies is a discipline focusing on the nature of culture and its current transformations. At Swinburne, Cultural Studies is an interdisciplinary major, consisting of core units of study from Philosophy and Cultural Inquiry, and the choice of a diversity of units of study from a range of other disciplines. This has the advantage of providing students with a rigorous foundation in the theoretical debates taking place within cultural studies, together with a wide choice of other units of study pertaining to practical cultural issues.

Students may structure their course to focus on their particular interests, such as literature and film as cultural phenomena, cultural politics, the problematic relationship between cultures in a globalized world, the problems associated with the disintegration of traditional cultures and the search for new foundations for beliefs, or science and philosophy as cultural phenomena.

ELECTRONIC SOCIETY

The Electronic Society major is designed to introduce students to the broad range of issues involved in the rise of the networked society and the implications of global culture. The Electronic Society major is interdisciplinary in its focus and is designed to offer students the opportunity to explore these issues from a broad range of perspectives. Units of study in the major are drawn from the study areas of Media and Communications, Politics, Philosophy and Cultural Inquiry, Psychology and Sociology.

HAM315 Information Society: A Global Perspective

ITALIAN STUDIES

The Italian Studies major is designed to enable students to communicate with Italians, on both linguistic and socio-cultural levels. The major study in Italian therefore strongly emphasises language acquisition, and progressively treats those aspects of Italian language, literature, history, geography, economics, sociology, politics and culture appropriate to an understanding of the modern nation and its inhabitants.

The Italian language units of study have been specifically designed for non-native speakers of Italian and can be completed in a Beginners or Advanced (post-VCE) stream.

Structure

The Italian Studies major is sequential in nature. Students must successfully complete all language units of study in one stage before progressing to the next stage.

Students who intend, on graduating, to teach Italian at either primary or secondary level, or who do not wish to preclude this possibility, should note that the exit point from the Italian Studies major must be at the Stage 3 Advanced level. To achieve this, it is suggested that Beginners students transfer to the Advanced stream by enrolling in HAA384 Individual Project following completion of HAA283 Italian 2Z. A Credit is the minimum grade required in order to transfer to the Advanced stream. Students must obtain approval from the Italian Studies Convenor prior to changing from one stream to another.

STAGE 3

HAA384 Individual Project#

HAA387 Advanced Business Italian#

HAA388 Comparative Italy#

Units of study required for an Italian major in either the Beginners or Advanced stream.

A minor in Italian will consist of the five Stage 1 and Stage 2 units of study listed in the major.

Please note: As students are not required to complete a Stage 3 unit of study in the Italian minor, students taking this minor must ensure they complete a minimum of six Stage 3 units of study in the degree to satisfy course requirements.

JAPANESE

Relationships have been established between Australia and Japan on all levels of national life. This means that a study of Japanese language, both spoken and written is in the students' interests. Furthermore, it is important that there be an increase in the level of knowledge and understanding of Japan. The Japanese units of study train students to communicate effectively in Japanese, and also provide the opportunity to study Japanese culture, society and economy through the language. The emphasis is on contemporary Japanese.

The Japanese language units of study have been specifically designed for non-native speakers of Japanese and can be completed in a Beginners or Advanced (post-VCE) Stream. Native speakers of Japanese will not be eligible to enrol in the language.

Structure

The Japanese major is sequential in nature. Students must successfully complete all units of study in a stage before progressing to the next stage.

Students who intend, on graduating, to teach Japanese at either primary or secondary level, or who do not wish to preclude this possibility, should note that the exit point required in the Japanese major must be at the Stage 3 Advanced level. To achieve this, it is suggested that students studying the Beginners stream transfer to the Advanced stream by enrolling in Stage 3 Advanced units of study following completion of Stage 2. A credit average is required to transfer to the Advanced stream. Students must obtain approval from the Japanese Convenor prior to changing from one stream to another.

Students whose Stage 2 results are Credit or above in either the Beginners or the Advanced stream may choose to study a part of their third year course at an approved tertiary institution in Japan. A scholarship scheme has been established to enable students to undertake this alternative.

Please note: As students are not required to complete a Stage 3 unit of study in the Japanese minor and only two Stage 3 units of study for a major, students taking this minor must ensure they complete a minimum of six Stage 3 units of study in the degree to satisfy course requirements.

LITERATURE

The study of Literature is principally concerned with how we relate to and make sense of the world through writing. The Literature major at Swinburne is designed to provide students with the opportunity to consider literary works from a variety of historical periods, ranging from the Renaissance to the Cyberculture of the twenty-first century. Students also consider issues such as the changing nature of culture as we move into an 'Age of Information'.

Note: All post-Stage 1 Philosophy units of study may be studied as either Stage 2 or Stage 3 units of study. Students must study at least three units of study at Stage 3 to meet the requirements of the major.

Social Science Majors and Minors

POLITICS

Politics at Swinburne is focused on the areas of greatest relevance to students in their working lives. It deals with the institutions and processes of government in Australia, the forces that have shaped them, and the consequences for ordinary Australians. Recognising that Australia is increasingly being shaped by international forces, it introduces students to global politics and to the politics of the Asian region with which our future is closely entwined, and where increasing numbers of Australians are living and working.

PSYCHOLOGY

The undergraduate Psychology program provides students with a broad introduction to Psychology at all three stages. In Stage 3 some attention is given to vocational skills and knowledge relevant to applied fields.

The three-year undergraduate sequence in Psychology at Swinburne is accredited by the Australian Psychological Society.

Structure

The Psychology major has a set structure and is sequential in nature; completion of the prescribed units of study at one stage of the program is a prerequisite for study at the next level. In addition to completing the mandatory unit of study HMA103 Statistics and Research Methods A, the ten units of study listed below must be completed to satisfy the requirements of a Psychology major.

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the study of how individuals interact in groups, ranging from families to whole societies such as Australia. It provides different understandings of the ways individuals, groups and societies work. It also provides a systematic understanding of different ways of finding out about aspects of the social world, ranging from participant observation and in depth interviews through to large scale surveys and computerised data techniques. A sociological perspective is an essential part of informed decision-making and human resource management in a rapidly changing social world.

Sociology at Swinburne studies Australian society in an international perspective, comparing it with other societies. The program also takes an applied approach by emphasising how sociology can be used to solve practical problems faced by individuals, organisations and governments.
