PARTICIPATE AND CONTRIBUTE TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF SOCIAL ENTERPRISE IN AUSTRALIA
Finding Australia’s Social Enterprise Sector 2015

Have your say in research that will change social enterprise in Australia by completing an online survey.

All survey submissions will receive the interim and full report of this important research upon release.

This survey provides valuable information critical in educating and informing policy and creating a stronger identity for the social enterprise community in Australia.

In 2010, Jo Barraket at Queensland University of Technology and Social Traders designed a research project with the aim of Finding Australia’s Social Enterprise Sector. Since its launch the findings of this research have been downloaded over 15,000 times, and evidence from it has played a critical role in supporting investment into social enterprise in Australia.

Finding Australia’s Social Enterprise Sector 2015, supported by Social Traders and led by Professor Barraket (now at the Centre for Social Impact at Swinburne University) have completed the first stage of this on-going national research by interviewing 75 participants across 13 focus groups in 6 states.

Visit the link below to access the survey for Finding Australia’s Social Enterprise Sector 2015.

tinyurl.com/fases2015