

Research Training Program Scholarship Policy

1 Purpose

Under the University's Governance Framework this policy is considered a University Guideline.

The purpose of these Guidelines is to provide information about the processes, policies and conditions of Australian Government funded Research Training Program (RTP) Scholarships. Basic information about RTP scholarship conditions can also be found in the Commonwealth Scholarships Guidelines \(Research\) 2017.

2 Research Training Program Scholarship Types

Effective 1 January 2017, the Australian Government replaced the Research Training Scheme (RTS), Australian Postgraduate Awards (APA), and International Postgraduate Research Scholarships (IPRS) with a single program, the Research Training Program (RTP).

The RTP provides support to Higher Degree by Research (HDR) students through the following scholarship types:

RTP Fees Offset	paid to individual students by way of satisfaction of their liability for tuition fees
RTP Stipend	to assist students with their living costs while undertaking a HDR
RTP Allowances	to assist students with ancillary costs of a HDR including but not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – for overseas students, a standard Overseas Student Health Cover policy approved by the Commonwealth Department of Health and which covers the student and their spouse and dependants (if any); – relocation costs to undertake a HDR; and – HDR thesis printing and academic publication costs.

3 RTP Fees Offset

3.1 RTP Fees Offset (Domestic) Eligibility and Selection Criteria

To be eligible for a RTP Fees Offset (Domestic) a student must:

- be a domestic student as defined by the Higher Education Support Act \(2003\);
- be enrolled in an accredited HDR course of study at Swinburne; and
- not be receiving an equivalent award or scholarship from the Commonwealth designed to offset HDR fees.

Domestic students applying for a place in an accredited Swinburne HDR program will automatically be considered for a RTP Fees Offset (Domestic) scholarship. Information about the application process for a HDR program is located on the Research Degrees webpage.

3.2 RTP Fees Offset (International) Eligibility and Selection Criteria

To be eligible for a RTP Fees Offset (International) a student must:

- be an overseas student as defined by the Higher Education Support Act \(2003\);
- be enrolled in an accredited HDR course of study at Swinburne;
- not be receiving an equivalent award or scholarship from the Commonwealth designed to offset HDR fees; and
- meet the eligibility requirements detailed in the RTP Fees Offset \(International\) Conditions of Award.

RTP Fees Offset (International) scholarships will be awarded as a result of a competitive selection process approved by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research and Development). More information about the application and selection process for RTP Fees Offset (International) scholarships is located on Swinburne's scholarships webpage.

3.3 RTP Fees Offset Period of Support

The period of support for a RTP Fees Offset scholarship is as follows:

- a minimum of three years and up to a maximum of four years at the discretion of Swinburne if the student is undertaking an eligible Research Doctorate at a full-time student load or for a minimum of six years and up to a maximum of eight years at the discretion of Swinburne for a part-time student load; or
- a maximum of two years if the student is undertaking a Research Masters at a full-time student load or a maximum of four years for a part-time student load.

The period of support is calculated from the HDR course of study commencement date. For a student who is transferring their candidature from another institution in order to complete a continuing HDR, the course of study commencement date will be the date they commenced their HDR at their originating University, and the period of RTP Fees Offset support at Swinburne will be reduced by the EFTSL already consumed in the HDR.

The student's period of support will be increased for periods of leave of absence approved by Swinburne in accordance with the requirements and processes outlined in the Research Training Statement of Practiceⁱ. Any periods of candidature suspension approved by Swinburne do not contribute to the period of support.

The student's period of support will also be adjusted for the following enrolment changes in accordance with the requirements and processes outlined in the Research Training Statement of Practiceⁱ:

- a change from full time to part time, or part time to full time enrolment; and
- conversion from a Research Masters to a Research Doctorate degree, or from a Research Doctorate to a Research Masters degree.
