Course: Diploma of Carbon Management

What made you choose to undertake the Diploma of Carbon Management course?

Part of a long term goal in a career change towards sustainability. After studying two graduate courses, which helped me understand through an academic perspective, it was refreshing also to get hands on and technical experience. It is an area of interest which I am passionate about.

What did you like about your course?

The course took you from the basics to implementation stage. The course gave me the practical steps and experience to see implemented results immediately. The course notes were very comprehensive and detailed and very easy to use and understand. The facilitators on campus made learning a sometimes difficult topic seem easy. Behaviour change is a challenge for any organisation, but the course helped me immensely towards addressing this problem with great effect.

Why did you choose this course?

I saw this as an essential part of my sustainability studies and I wanted to be involved more in sustainability professionally. A carbon management diploma was a perfect fit and a good foundation to be involved in a career that is involved in the economy transitioning to a low carbon future.

What do you hope to gain from the Diploma of Carbon Management course?

It has given me the perspective and understanding to hit the ground running. It has opened doors and I have moved into the business consultancy department of my organisation. My occupational role is predominantly a sustainability position with a specialisation in carbon management.

What advice do you have for other students considering doing the course?

As the business as usual model is not sustainable anymore, it is the new innovative professions of tomorrow that will assist and drive any transition of change. It is now an exciting time of learning a new profession. Especially since energy efficiency and a carbon tax are such hot topics.
