Purpose of this form

If something out of the ordinary and beyond your control happens to you, and it impacts on your ability to complete an assessment task, you can apply for special consideration. You will be required to provide documentation to support your application.

If your application for special consideration is based on medical grounds then you should ask your Professional Practitioner to complete the Medical Impact statement (page 3 of this form) and submit with your application.

Guidelines for Special Consideration

- The policy for special consideration is detailed in the Assessment and Results Policy, located on the University website: http://www.swinburne.edu.au/policies/academic/assessment.html#special

- You may apply for special consideration if you have been:
  - significantly hampered, by illness or other extraordinary causes, from preparing or presenting for an assessment task
  - adversely affected by illness or other extraordinary causes, during the performance of an assessment task

- When your medical condition does not prevent you from attending or sitting an assessment task, you:
  - must attend and sit the assessment task; and
  - then you may apply for special consideration

- When a decision is being made about this application, the following will be considered:
  - your performance in other assessment tasks in the unit and whether you have met the other requirements for successful completion of the unit
  - the nature of the special circumstances
  - the relevance, nature and authenticity of the evidence provided
  - the requirements and any constraints of the particular assessment task

- The results of your application may be that you:
  - are granted an extension to the due date for your assessment task
  - are given special arrangements for your assessment task is approved
  - may be able to re-do one or more of your assessment tasks.

Submission Details

This application must be submitted to StudentHQ no later than 5pm on the third working day after the submission date for the assessment task for which Special Consideration is being claimed.
