For General Unit of Study Timetable Information:

To access the 2013 Higher Education Unit of Study Timetable

- After Allocate+ opens in preference Mode go to http://allocate.swin.edu.au/aplus/aptimetable

- Select teaching period – e.g. Semester One

- Select your campus location

- If you know the Unit of Study (subject) code or name type this in or you can select a Faculty from the drop down menu to view the Units of Study (subjects) offered by each Faculty. Click on ‘search’ and select from the list which appears. You can select multiple Units of Study (subjects) by holding down the ‘Ctrl’ Key. Click on ‘add’

- Select the activity types you wish to view

- Select a timetable view (Flat or Grid) and check for any clashes

If you have any technical problems when accessing the Allocate+ system, please go to Allocate+ Assistance from: www.swin.edu.au/timetable
N.B. Enquiries should only be submitted via the above web page

For any assistance with My.Swinburne please email portalsupport@swin.edu.au
Allocate+

Allocate+ is the web based class allocation system used by students studying Higher Education Units of Study to obtain their timetable.

How to use Allocate+

1. Once you are enrolled on the Student enrolment system you should be able to access Allocate+ via http://allocate.swin.edu.au/aplus/apstudent. If you do have any difficulties please wait several hours or retry the following day. (Your timetable is also accessible through My.Swinburne).

2. To enter Allocate+ students need their SIMS Username and Password. For information on setting up your SIMS User Name and Password go to: http://www.its.swinburne.edu.au/qas/sims.htm

3. When the system is in Preference Entry mode enter your preferences for each activity group within each unit of study (subject). Click on the “Submit my Preferences” button.

4. Please note that these preferences are not your timetable and are not final until after the sort process has been completed. Remember the timetable must be allocated so students do not have clashes.

5. When the system is in Allocation Adjustment mode, if you wish, you can change your allocation by clicking on the chosen “Pick Me” link.

6. Print out your allocations from the “My Allocation” link and logout of the system - This is your timetable.

Important Dates: Semester 1 (T1 & T2)

Preference Entry

Preference Entry mode is not on a “first-come-first-serve” basis. Students’ favoured time slots are collected then sorted and assigned to a class based on their enrolled units of study, course restrictions and available resources. It is designed to give a fair chance to all enrolling students prior to the system changing modes.

- Preference Entry Mode Opens
  Friday 25 January 2013 (5.00 pm)

- Preference Entry Mode Closes
  Monday 18 February 2013 (9.00 am)

Global Sort of Preferences

The system is closed while students’ entered preferences are sorted and allocated to classes so they do not have clashes. Where there is only one single class students must still access Allocate+ to confirm allocation and class times. You can only be automatically allocated if there is not a clash with any existing allocation and if there is space.

Allocation Adjustment

Allocation Adjustment mode allows students to move around or choose the class they wish to attend. They will know instantly whether they have been successful as it is on a first come first serve basis.

- Allocation Adjustment Mode Opens
  Thursday 21 February 2013 (5.00 pm)

- Allocation Adjustment Mode Closes (S1 & T1)
  Wednesday 13 March 2013 (5.00 pm)

Term 1 - Wednesday 24 April 2013 (9.00 am)
