

Brand-driven Growth 4 Day Masterclass

Virtual Learning

2022

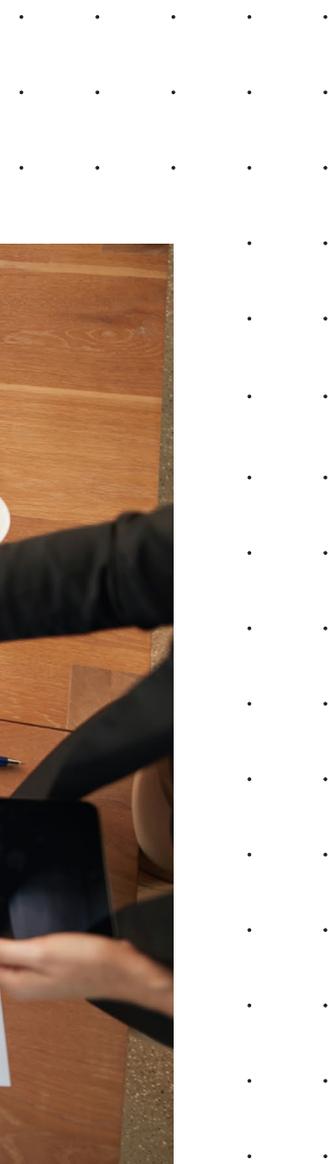

Unleashing the power of brand management

Do you have the need to build world-class commercial and brand capability?

For decades, leading global companies have invested millions of dollars in developing world-class brand building capability. Bottom-line profits have become harder to deliver and as a result, funding for brand-focused capability building has suffered significantly.

Business leaders have identified a void: the art of brand management is being lost. To address this, Swinburne University of Technology and Total Brand Value will debut a world-class industry-led brand management program to the Australian and New Zealand markets in 2021.

This is a truly collaborative and interactive program led by some of the world's most experienced senior practitioners to unleash the real power of brand management.

About the program

Who is it designed for?

Leaders across all sectors of industry who have any interaction with brand management, commercial actions or strategic thinking.

How is it structured?

This intensive program will run virtually and is designed to cut through the complexities in today's business environment:

- Four days of collaborative learning in an expertly curated virtual setting
- Experiential learning in small groups
- Expert facilitation and management of groups
- Designed to maximise team collaboration in a virtual business world.

What will I get out of it?

Do you need a simple approach to managing your business as a brand? This program is created by brand management experts with over 20 years of global experience who will help. They expertly structure simple tools ideal for virtual (and live) working based on years of remote global team coordination.

As a participant, you'll be exposed to a blend of industry-relevant best practices and experiential workshops. These include a masterclass in brand management which will remain with you for the rest of your career. While learning the finer points of brand positioning, this program will take you on a branding journey by applying thinking to a real brand by leveraging virtual working. You'll also have access to expert facilitators, coaches and have the opportunity to network with like-minded people across best practice businesses.

Get ready to be inspired, challenged, and equipped with new insights and skills to advance your branding journey.

How will my organisation benefit?

This program is designed to be applied right away. The techniques are so practical, they enable delegates to start to process their own business issues as they progress throughout the week. You will obtain the skills to lead business growth and transformation by connecting brands with consumers.

What will I learn?

You will obtain the skills to lead business growth and unleash the power of brand management.
